REMARKS

This responds to the Office Action mailed on March 8, 2005, and the references cited therewith.

Claims 1-41 are canceled, and claims 42-56 are added; as a result, claims 42-56 are now pending in this application.

As explained in the Background of the Invention section of the present application, cache based systems for condensing communications are known in the art. U.S. Patent No 6,178,461, cited by the Examiner, is such a cache based system. As further explained in the Background, it is known to use a base version of a document and transmit a difference between the base version and the requested document. In contrast to the prior systems, the present application describes creating classes, selecting and updating class base versions, and maintaining security.

New claims are presented herein to more clearly focus on the invention and speed prosecution of the application.
